

SHA-256 challenge #2

Attached, you will find:

1. The sha256 hash of the password we chose. The password is a string of unknown length.
2. A basic shell of the code.

Your goal is to perform a brute force attack in order to discover the password.

Hint: this will take too long without using multithreading!

The flag will be the password.
Good luck!

